

as represented by limit drawing ratio (LDR) and drawing height, measured for sheets of aluminum alloys and a mild steel. The LDRs for the aluminum alloys are smaller than the value for the mild steel. The drawing heights of the aluminum sheets are about 70 % of that of the steel.

the required quality. Unification and recycling of parts will also be needed.

References

1) Kondo: , 1 (2000). 2)